Harbor City

Well I have the shirt on him now too. For like, shock I guess? Should we call- wait he's waking up! Toby!

Toby!! You're lucky I wanted spaghetti-os on my break, you could have like, decomposed!! Someone knocked you out and stuck you behind the coke fridge at the end of the can aisle!!

Wait, no- what? No, I was-

Wait, what happened? Actually I don't remember anything at all...

Eric's going back through the security footage RIGHT now. We're gonna see exactly what happened and then kick the SHIT out of whoever did this to you.

Oh, actually I remember now. It was just this sweet old lady. She bumped into me and dropped something I think. It was an accident. I saw her leave anyway, so like there's no real point in...

It looks like you went back there on purpose, and then a can fell on your head.

I'm sorry. I saw the top of his head and flipped. He just freaks me out. I never know how not to sound like an idiot when I talk to guys I like, and my hair's a horrible mess. I couldn't do it.

Anyway, who's the poor gargantuan numbskull you took this shirt from. I'm giving it back to them.

I think your hair looks cute!
